Based on the wildly popular children's literary series "The Magic Tree House", this full production camp immerses the camper in all aspects of producing a show, from designing the set to learning the music, choreography and culminating with 2 public performances for the community. This is a great "starter camp" for the child that has always wanted to participate in a show but has not had the time or courage to get on the stage. Two snacks provided each day for full day campers, one morning snack for half day campers.
